DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to the amendment filed 08/22/06. Claims 1-42 are pending. Claims 19-31, 40 and 41 are allowed. Claims 1-4 and 33-39 are objected.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1, 11, 33 and 36-39 are objected to because of the following informalities: claim 1: line 3; claim 11, line 2; claim 33, line 2; claim 3 line 3; claim 36, line 3; claim 37, line 3; claim 38, line 2; claim 39, line 2: the phrase "capable of" performs a function that is not a positive limitation. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 5-18, 32 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5, line 15, it is not clear whether "a transponder" refers to the same transponder cited in line 8.

Claim 6, line 2, the phrase "the device" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim 11, line 9, the phrase "the mobile terminal" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim 42, line 5, the phrase "the Internet" lacks antecedent basis.

Art Unit: 2616

4. Regarding claim 32, the phrase "may include" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. Claims 32 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ramamurthy et al. (US 6,853,294).

Regarding claim 32, Ramamurthy discloses a method for writing a packetized data to a data carrier, where the data carrier is an RFID tag, comprising:

determining if a tag is writeable (the control logic 56 accesses the memory 58 to read and/or write data therefrom; column 5, lines 55-56) (the processor 46 reads the designated fields and determines whether the designated fields contain valid data (a known protocol or unknown tag protocol); if it is unknown the reader forwards the data to a generic process in the server 22), and if so, alerting and application program executable in (mobile device) or a network to prepare to transmit data after a reader completes a handshake with the tag (if it is unknown the reader forwards the data to a generic process in the server 22; column 7, lines 11-39);

transmitting the data to the reader from the application program for retransmission to the tag (column 4, line 56-column 5, line 10);

appending a RFID header to the data (each data packet communicated using the TCP/IP protocol including a header portion that contains the TCP and IP information);

Art Unit: 2616

receiving and storing the transmitted data in the tag which may include over-wiring the data in an erasable read-only memory included in the tag (column 5, line 22-column 6, line 14); and transmitting an acknowledgment signal to the application via the reader (TCP represents a common connection-oriented protocol and expects an acknowledgment from the receiving node).

Ramamurthy does not disclose an RFID system in a mobile

Ramamurthy discloses, in Figs. 2 and 3, a transponder (50) for an RFID system, comprising:

- a) a substrate including RF receiving and transmitting means (54) (column 5, lines 40-44);
- b) data storage means (58) storing packetized data in standardized and globally addressable data formats transportable in the Internet (TCP format is a standardized and globally addressable data format; see instant Application page 6, lines 5-16) column 5, line 65-column 6, line 14) ; and
- c) identifying code (the processor 46 reads the designated fields and determines a message format based on the protocol defined by the port number) in the format identifying the data format (the port Number determine the protocol used in the RFID tag 14 and the associated software application that supports the protocol; column 7, lines 40-55) and an indication whether the data should be processed locally at a reader device (computer system includes RFID reader 44, a server 22 and computers 24; see column 4, lines 33-34; further the server 22 determines (based on the IP address (an indication)) whether the data should be processed locally within the computer network or external to the network) communicating with the transponder or sent to and external destination for processing (column 6, lines 15-41).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 19-31, 40 and 41 are allowed.
7. Claims 5-18, 32 and 42 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-42 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2616
